 - b. Jim Giglierano – Written update
8. Discussion and possible action regarding the draft definition for PLSS integration:
-Is your county's PLSS network complete and integrated into digital parcel layer?
This includes: rediscovery of PLSS corner monuments and physical remonumentation of corners without existing monuments; establishing accurate coordinates on these corners based on a modern datum; posting tie sheets online for these corners; and integrating all county PLSS corners into the county parcel fabric.
Integration means the optimization of the geospatial accuracy of the digital parcel layer which improves the accuracy of where parcel boundary lines are represented on the digital parcel map. In cases where the result would be a materially significant improvement to the geospatial accuracy of the digital parcel layer, parcels have been tied to and, if necessary, adjusted geometrically to the inputted PLSS coordinates. This definition does not imply a restriction on a county's options for integration, whether it is snapping parcel boundary lines to PLSS corner coordinates one corner at a time, entirely redrawing parcel boundaries one survey township at a time, or another chosen approach. (For example, "rubber sheeting" is not required.)
